First off, let's get something straight. I'm going to be presenting some conspiracy theories in this zine, but that doesn't mean you should be getting into just any conspiracy theory. Lots of them are extremely dangerous lies propagated by bad actors who benefit from the general public believing lies. Fuck QAnon bullshit, fuck Jewish theories, fuck Illuminati shit, fuck the flat earth, and fuck falsehoods that divide us. ^{WHAT I HAVE}

^{ARE} These are poorly researched ideas that I've generally begun to feel hold more weight than can be proven or discussed by mass media entities. More like conspiracy hypotheses. Or political theories. But fuck it, it says Conspiracy Theories on the cover, so get over it (or don't, your choice).

Also I'm terrible at making zines so the next few pages will be presented in a random order. I'm only good at choosing what goes on the cover.

You may have finished this very shitty zine and come to a realization. I'm not saying any one person is causing these problems. I'm saying that these are issues caused by SYSTEMS. These systems make it in the best interest for the rich and powerful to act in specific ways, but they do not make it impossible for some individuals to act altruistically. In theory, these systems can be changed. You could vote for some fuckhead, or you could run for office. Local elections are the most important way of getting your voice heard. And protests. And shitty zines that nobody wants to read because the last three were so egregiously insulting to witness by anyone with the faintest sense of morality. I dunno, go shit on the sidewalk and tell your tiktok followers it was for world peace.

COVID IS STILL REAL

On the inverse side of what all the other dipshit conspiracy theorists will have you believe, COVID is still real as FUCK and is still super harmful for those who are vulnerable. I have friends who still can't go out in public, and who actually have to stay in more, because it's now become socially acceptable to not wear a mask. COVID once made for great media ratings, but once everyone got bored, the media stopped talking about it, and us goobers who don't actually think for ourselves just stopped giving a shit. I KNOW THIS IS TRUE! How do I know this? I work in an industry that made us wear masks until summer of 2023. I never got the 'rona before summer of 2023, but afterward I got it twice in under 6 months. COVID IS STILL REAL!!!!!!1!!

DEMS DON'T CARE

About the poor/minorities so long as they continue to help get them in office to commit war crimes and ingratiate their grandchildren's portfolios.

Yeah, yeah, they're better than Republicans. I am constantly appalled that that is the ONLY reason one might push for their election though. If we were able to supply a valid third party, perhaps a REAL LEFTIST ONE, the Dems would be completely fucked. That's why they silenced Bernie (that primary was the only election that was actually rigged¹)!!

Democrats will only help the poor/minorities until it gets in the way.

POWERFUL PUSH DIVISION

Division among class/politics/religion only serves to benefit the ultra powerful, because having us infighting keeps up from looking at what we have in common. If we were able to let down our superficial differences, we could see better ways to make society for ALL - and that would include a high cost for those who have the most. If 85% of people would benefit from the top 15% being taken down a peg (not even being totally lowered to us measly peasants, just a little less rich), where's the harm in that? But ya know who doesn't wanna share? Those who have the most to share.

ALSO YOU'LL NEVER BE BILLIONAIRE.

If we were able to work together and acknowledge our differences without allowing them to divide us, us bottom 85%ers could be living much better lives.

WE DON'T KNOW THE RICH

The richest and most powerful people in the world prefer that Bezos/Musk/Zuckerberg are listed as the richest people on those stupid "Richest people in the world" listicles you look at while you're on the shitter at work because if we actually knew the real richest people, and how much more money and power and influence they have over our society, we'd scrutinize them in ways they would prefer we didn't.

I also think these people like that this line of reasoning leads to people thinking it's the Freemasons/Illuminati/Jewish conspiracy because these stupid fucking ideas just detract from the real influence they have on society. Seriously, get that Jewish conspiracy bullshit outta my fucking face.

CAPITALISM DOESN'T EXIST

We don't live under Capitalism in America, we live under Corporatism. Capitalism, at least as it is idealized by chumps, says that anyone can pull themselves up by their bootstraps and start their own small business. Wanna be a grocer? Just go to an area that needs one. Wanna sell online goods? Start up a website and get the word out. Walmart and Amazon don't have a stranglehold over most major markets in these regards! Go find a tiny niche that hasn't been swallowed up, and good luck finding a loan if you came from a lower tax bracket family. Best way to start a company is to have a rich daddy. Just ask Elon Musk.

Corporations also control American politics in kinda terrifying ways. Lobbyists are so powerful that they can't be done away with (they'll just lobby against them), all politicians are opposed to working against their stock holdings, and oh yeah, what's the percentage of blue collar fellas sitting in congress?

And don't even get me started about having a for-profit media! Just go and look what company owns your favorite media outlet. And who owns that. And who owns that. Etc...

MILITARY INTERVENTIONISM

US militarism is not as useful to the rest of the world as the politicians whose pockets are filled by arms dealers would have you believe. The Military Industrial Complex makes too much money from tax payers, has a stranglehold on politics (yes, both parties), and actively makes the world a worse place.

Yes, the US military sometimes helps people. Ain't that warm and fuzzy? It also contributes to genocide, bombing of civilians, and other atrocities that I would prefer not to type out (And I have no issue with typing the phrase "butthole/penis staple gun").

Some say we're in too deep because we've been doing it for the past 70ish years, but that doesn't mean we can't begin taking measures to limit our involvement with this shit in the future.

ALIENS AREN'T REAL

The Media and congressional hubbub about them was used to distract from something that those with power don't want the American public to be thinking about. Something tells me it had something to do with massive tax cuts for the ultra wealthy while us poor people are gonna get charged for more shit or something like that. I don't really know what it will be but I'm guessing it'll suck for you and me.

REAL ESTATE CORPORATIONS WANT TO BUY UP 100%

Of all the housing in America and then rent it back to us. I'm sure they won't ever get their grubby mitts on their own mansions and manors, but for us regular folk, say goodbye to one of the only forms of generational wealth that is afforded to lots of (white middle class) people. Oh and if you aren't in that privileged position, you'll be even more fucked. Our grandchildren will be serfs in a feudal hellscape of horrific climate catastrophes while Baron Musk and Lord Gates laugh from their air conditioned towers.

The only thing that can really help with this issue is tenant unions/legislation that'll protect us poor fuckers. Or guillotines. Materials for those are cheaper than rent. Not that I would ever recommend that...
